NUMBER 40

The Illinois legislature still continues to make a fool of itself at a cost of $2,500 a day.

General Grant weighs 141 pounds. When in health his weight was 162 pounds.

The quietest man in this country is Commissioner Black. He has hardly whispered since he heard from Miss Sweet.

It is claimed the cholera is more widely prevalent in Europe than is generally reported; and that its existence will be kept a secret this year as far as possible.

One might as well try to dodge a cyclone as to try to dodge the fact that there is a growing impatience among the old-time democrats toward Mr. Cleveland.

The attention of the administration is hereby directed to the fact that Judge Doolittle, of Wisconsin, is anxiously waiting to be called to fill some important foreign mission.

The other day the practical temperance people of Elgin, Illinois, made an effort to increase the saloon license to $1,000. But the prohibitionists joined forces with the saloon-keepers and defeated the proposition.

So it seems that France has decided to go to war with Egypt. France is very impetuous, and forms a bad resolution very hurriedly. It generally goes up like a rocket and comes down like a stick.

Rock county tobacco raises claim that this year the tobacco of the world in that county will be between 11,000 and 12,000. Dane county will have to look sharply her nicotine barrels, and overcome this neighborhood boom—State Journal.

You can't do it Mr. Journal. You have not got the soil or the enterprise to enable you to overcome the boom which Rock county will give to the tobacco industry.

What Dakota needs next to harmony in regard to its admission into the Union, is coal for home consumption, and the territorial authorities have offered a reward of $5,000 for the discovery and development of an anthracite coal mine within the territory. Prospectors are already in the field, seeking the desired mine, and some of them entertain strong hopes of success.

The five men who control more capital than any five kings in the world, are given as G. P. Huntington, Albert Keay, Jay Gould, George B. Roberts and James H. Rutter—who are presidents of five railroads which have 19,000 miles of track, representing $1,000,000,000, of which Jay Gould controls 6,000 miles of track and a little over $300,000,000. It will be seen that William H. Vanderbilt's name is omitted from the list.

It was supposed that the administration had suspended business, at least so far as filling offices with democrats, but a Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post gives the democrats a little encouragement by saying that all complaints against President Cleveland because of his slowness will soon be without excuse. He assures waiting democrats that a hundred changes in missions and consulates will be made within the next ten days, and that all the vacancies in postoffices, territories, and internal revenue offices and custom houses will be filled by the first of June. If this be true, the fun is about to begin in earnest.

The explosion of a fire-cracker in England makes the people in that country turn pale. The explosion at the admiralty office is of no special significance. It is now the opinion in police circles, after the smoke has cleared away, that the explosion was the result of private malice, as Mr. Swanson's was greatly disliked by a number of persons, including several employees of the office. It is certain that the internal machine was placed in a book case, just over the spot where Mr. Swanson's head would be when sitting at his desk. This being all there is of the big scare, England can now proceed to attend to the demands of Russia.

A correspondent asked the New York Tribune the other day the amount of the national debt of 1850, and the rate of interest the government was paying. The nearest official statement shows that the debt July 1, 1850, was $58,754,699.33, and July 1, 1860, $64,769,708.88. The amount of the debt on the date of the date named was between these two figures, but the precise amount cannot be stated. The rate of interest actually paid on debt outstanding in 1850 was about 6 per cent, but in that year, under authority of an act passed in 1858, 5 per cent certificates were sold at a small premium. A little later, the rate at which the government was able to borrow rapidly advanced, so that, before the democratic administration went out of power, the government was obliged to pay 12 per cent interest in borrowing less than $5,000,000.

WILL ENGLAND FIGHT?

There is no escaping the conclusion that England must either fight or run, unless, perhaps, Russia shall modify its tone toward that country. There is much to try England's patience just at present. Russia seems to have the very disagreeable habit of raising new objections as fast as its old ones are granted. Is this it is acting with an injustice that will generally be condemned. While these demands are being made by Russia and concessions granted by England, the former is making extensive preparations for war, just as if it intended to drive England to the wall by demanding something that in all honor it cannot grant.

There will be an end to these concessions on the part of England, for no nation, with the power of that country, feels like being driven to extreme humility as it is in this case. Forbearance will soon cease to be a virtue, and England will let slip the dogs of war, and Russia must suffer the consequences.

There can hardly be any reasonable doubt as to the result of a conflict of arms between England and Russia. If the former is forced to fight it will fight to win.

It is said that should England and Russia engage in a fight, about one-third of the inhabitants of the globe will be at war. The British empire embraces in round numbers 8,300,000 square miles, and the Russian empire 5,600,000 square miles, making 16,900,000 square miles of the 32,000,000 square miles on the globe.

The former rules nearly 900,000,000 people, and the latter about 100,000,000 of the 1,400,000,000 on the globe. If Russia has any advantage at all in the coming struggle it will be because the war will be near home, and because every mile of the Russian empire is contiguous territory and her whole population subject to the absolute will of the czar.

A PROFITABLE HIGH LICENSE.

There will be a great increase in the amount of revenue under the law recently enacted making the minimum license $200. We notice that in Mayor Waller's address in Milwaukee, he estimates that under the license law enacted at the last session of the legislature, the revenue of the city will be increased from $50,000 to upwards of $200,000, enabling the council to make the greatly needed increase in the police and fire departments without imposing any additional burden upon the tax-payers. This will be a gain of $120,000 for the public benefit directly resulting from high license.

A touching scene occurred when old Richard Johnson, colored, who, despite his age, had been working hard all day removing debris, overturned a mass of timber and discovered the remains of his son. Grief and horror overcame him, and he was carried home senseless. The property loss is estimated at $300,000; insurance one-half.

The Storm in the Southwest.

St. Louis, April 24.—Dispatches from southeastern Kansas report the heaviest rainfall since Tuesday that has ever been known in that part of the state. Over twelve inches of water are said to have fallen. All level country is submerged, and in a vast sheet of water. Traffic on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas rail road for many miles each way, from Parsons Wednesday on the Fort Scott & Gulf road was wrecked not far from town, the large teams of horses and cattle in the mud-slip on the Le Boite river, about one mile from Parsons, were drowned, and it is said individuals, perhaps thousands, of animals have been drowned in the surrounding country. Streams rose so rapidly and the water poured down in such torrents that little if anything could be done in the way of rescuing other kinds of property. Fields are devastated in all directions and great destruction of crops and movable property occurs. A large number of persons were rescued only after great difficulty and hard labor with improvised boats and by other means.

Northern Texas also suffered severely and railway traffic is much delayed.

At Medicina Lodge, Kans., fourteen bodies have been recovered and the damage to property is very great.

Extensive Snow-Storm Out West.

DENVER, April 24.—Between 7 o'clock yesterday and noon Thursday twenty inches of very wet snow fell here. The storm continued over an area of 100 miles and caused damage to roofs in this city to the extent of $30,000. The streams are rising rapidly. The snow is an immense benefit to stock ranges and will give grass a good start.

"GOT THERE AT LAST."

THE SUPREME COURT ON POLYGAMY.

For the first time since the enactment of the Edmunds law three years ago, the supreme court of the United States passed upon the constitutionality of the law a few days ago. The person who was arrested in Utah on charge of polygamy, was Budger Clawson, a prominent and a pronounced polygamist. He was indicted, and on trial the court refused to allow polygamists to be empannelled on the jury. He was convicted and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, and the case was taken to the United States supreme court on a writ of error the plaintiff alleging illegality in the exclusion from the jury of all persons who believe in polygamy. The supreme court now confirms the judgment of the district court of Utah, holding that exclusion of believers in polygamy from the jury was lawful.

Our readers will remember that it has been found almost impossible to secure convictions for polygamy in Utah under the old rule of allowing polygamous Mormons to serve on juries impaneled to try such cases. Invariably they would hang the juries and the cases would never come up again. In this way the polygamists were enabled to bid defiance to law and mock at common decency.

There are now hopeful signs that the dark and damning blot of polygamy which has shocked the moral sentiments of the country for so many years, shall soon be wiped out. It is high time for it to go. The curse has been with us quite long enough. The United States was the only country on the face of the globe of high "christian civilization" that openly permitted the crime of polygamy to go unpunished and to flourish. When it is known in Utah that a polygamist shall not be held up as a martyr, but shall be brought face to face with real punishment, it will soon be like slavery, one of the cursed things that only lives in history.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitter, I feel my duty is to let sufficient time elapse before I have a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctor told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitter, and sores boxes Bucklin's Aracea Salvo, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklin's Aracea Salvo at 25 cents per box by F. Sherer & Co.

Prentiss & Evanson distinctly state that Acker's English remedy has and does cure contracted consumption. An entirely new medicine, guaranteed.

Hucklen's Africa Salvo.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, etc., rheum, fever, sores, etc., chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pain required.

DREADFUL DISCOVERY.

THAT THE VICKSBURG FIRE WAS A HUMAN SACRIFICE.

A Score of People Believed to Have Perished in the Flames—Six Bodies Recovered—Storm Haven in the Southwest.

New Orleans, April 24.—A special to The Times-Democrat from Vicksburg, Miss., says:

Great excitement prevailed here Thursday over Tuesday night's fire, owing to the fact that a number of people were missing. Laborers were put to work overturning the debris, and the scene of the fire was crowded with friends of missing people. Notwithstanding the heavy rain retarded the work, the charred remains of six victims were unearthed, as follows:

W. R. Mulcahy, William H. Phelan, and Joseph Don, all white, and Hayden Canada, Richard Johnson, and Eph. Bell, colored. The bodies were all found in the cellar of the building occupied by Mrs. Bloom. The list of missing is growing hourly, and it is thought at least twenty bodies will be found. A large number are supposed to be under the debris of Paulette's store, which has not yet been torn down. Six men of the permanent force of the steamer Belle of Memphis, alone are missing.

A touching scene occurred when old Richard Johnson, colored, who, despite his age, had been working hard all day removing debris, overturned a mass of timber and discovered the remains of his son. Grief and horror overcame him, and he was carried home senseless. The property loss is estimated at $300,000; insurance one-half.

CINCINNATI, April 24.—The railway passenger pool control committee, in session Tuesday morning adjourned at 12:30 Thursday, having failed to perform the principal object of the meeting, namely, to establish a differential rate between the two railroads and the Lake Erie and Western.

President Farnsworth said to a reporter: "We are trying to settle the difficulty. Mr. Ford refused to recognize a differential rate and the three roads will now have to fight it out," which means a bitter and decisive rate war.

They Will Have to Fight It Out.

RICHMOND, Va., April 24.—Recent investigations in the Lillian Madison murder show that she had a watch key which resembled that found at the aperture in the reservoir fence. This in part, destroys the most valuable evidence against Claverus, the accused.

THE GROWLING DOGS OF WAR.

Russia's Latest Claim.

LONDON, April 24.—The Morning Post
states that Russia claims that Sir Gladstone's statement in the House of Commons,
in regard to Sir Peter Lumsden's report,
compromised the parleyings between the two governments and that it is necessary for Russia to terminate the discussion.

Long dispatches continue to pass daily between the foreign offices and Gen. Sir Peter Lumsden, British commissioner of Afghanistan, and Sir Edward Thornton, the British minister at St. Petersburg, but nothing definite has been learned. It is said that the chiefs of the cabinet are determined to guard their secret closely, at least until the vote of credit debate in the House of Commons next Monday evening.

Baron de Stael, the Russian ambassador,
and another long conference with Earl Granville, the foreign secretary, Thursday afternoon. As he hurried to his carriage after the interview, savagely pulling his long white whiskers, he locked both carbon and anger.

Some of the papers are uncertain enough to comment upon the fact that the Russian government is most anxious of an explosion of dynamite with intent to maim or kill, shall suffer death by hanging.

LONDON, April 24.—The Morning Post
states that Russia claims that Sir Glad-
stone's statement in the House of Commons,
in regard to Sir Peter Lumsden's report,
compromised the parleyings between the two governments and that it is necessary for Russia to terminate the discussion.

Long dispatches continue to pass daily between the foreign offices and Gen. Sir Peter Lumsden, British commissioner of Afghanistan, and Sir Edward Thornton, the British minister at St. Petersburg, but nothing definite has been learned. It is said that the chiefs of the cabinet are determined to guard their secret closely, at least until the vote of credit debate in the House of Commons next Monday evening.

Baron de Stael, the Russian ambassador,
and another long conference with Earl
Granville, the foreign secretary, Thursday afternoon. As he hurried to his carriage
after the interview, savagely pulling his
long white whiskers, he locked both carbon and anger.

An information was filed this forenoon in the municipal court by the district attorney in the case of the state against Mundt charging false pretenses. The defendant waived reading of the information and moved to quash on the ground that no offense was charged. The case was adjourned for argument of motion. L. K. Luso, of Stoughton, appeared as attorney for defendant.

The ladies of Trinity church sewing society, appreciating the fact that spring has come to remain, and that summer apparel will soon be in demand, are making arrangements for an apron sale at the chapel Wednesday evening, May 6th. The Trinity church ladies will be prepared to supply the latest designs.

The Madison Democrat: "Report comes from Milwaukee that the saloonists of that city—some of them at least—propose to try the soundness of the new liquor law in the court, before they plunk down license fees. It is claimed that the law is vague; that it fails to explain its provisions. Some attorneys have been heard to say the law is so muddled that no license can be collected under it for two years, unless Governor Rusk calls an extra session to patch it up. Perhaps the best way is to have some competent court construe the law and have the matter settled."

There is considerable speculation just now concerning the number of applications for saloon license that will be made at the next meeting of the commissioners. So far as we can learn, the number will not be decreased from last year; that while some who are now selling liquor will retire on the first of May, others stand ready to make applications, and we shall be disappointed if a less number apply than last year. But very few, however, intend taking a wholesale license, which costs an additional two hundred dollars, one hundred and seventy-five dollars more than last year.

Mr. John Martin, of Oshkosh, the contractor for putting down the block pavement on the "City Mills," located in the rear of the postoffice building, has just completed a thorough overhauling of his mill, and has put in a complete set of "rolls" of the latest and best improved patents. Everything is new from the basement, or wheel pit, to the patent dust collector located next to the roof—and by the way, the dust collector is the little joker producing the racket heard for blocks away in the still of the night, reminding one of the noise made by the "exhaust" of a rotary steam fire engine. The City Mill is now complete in every department; the machinery was all put in by Mr. Charles Horr, who has had many years experience in the milling business, and thoroughly understands the machinery necessary to make a first quality of flour. The rolls are of the E. P. Allis manufacture, of Milwaukee, and are of the best. The City Mill is now in full operation under the foremanship of Mr. Chas. Horr, who is now making a specialty of "Crossett's Best Roller Process Rye Flour," which stands at the head in the market. One of the old style burn stones, remains in the mill, for use on special occasions. The mill, although small, has a capacity of grinding from seventy-five to one hundred barrels of rye flour per day, and if necessary that quantity can be increased several barrels. We were shown through the mill this morning by Mr. Horr, and were agreeably surprised at the neat and orderly appearance of every machine, which reflects much credit upon the proprietor as well as the foreman and "boss miller".

Believe it or not, we have a special supply of pure bone phosphate. Do not keep or recommend any other. Have also pure ground bone. Special rates of freight enable me to sell it low for this class of goods. In my absence call on Thos. Welch, Cherry street.

L. H. Soverson, of Stoughton, appeared as attorney for defendant.
